

Dr. Noel Santana Aguilar

Dr. Noel Aguilar is internationally recognized and respected as a pioneer and leader in biological skin therapy research. He is the founder and CEO of the DNA Health Institute, Cryogenic Division, LLC located in Ventura, California, USA. At the Institute, Dr. Aguilar leads a team of innovative visionaries specializing in embryonic cell research as it applies to healthy aging and genetics. Dr. Aguilar is the creator of DNA CryoStem™ Technology and the DNA CryoStem™ Skin Therapy System. This complete line of cosmeceutical-grade skin care products for professional use and patient/client home care features his proprietary system of biological cellular extract serums. This system is so revolutionary in its technology, properties, functions, and applications that it defies being categorized as just another skin care product line. With this unrivaled technology, Dr. Aguilar is redefining skin care for the 21st Century. Furthermore, Dr. Aguilar maintains a clinical practice at the Los Angeles Center for Healing (LACH) in Beverly Hills, California where he specializes in Biological Medicine and the Individuation of Human Chemistry through holistic and non-invasive modalities and therapies. Dr. Aguilar's distinguished professional career is complemented by an education in integrative medicine and bio-sciences. He earned his undergraduate education from Pepperdine University in Malibu, California, and he is a graduate from the prestigious Hahnemann College of Homeopathy in Berkeley, California where he earned his first Doctorate Degree. He furthered his education and credentials by earning a Masters Degree from the Oriental Medical University of Hawaii. His studies in the European Nations earned him a Doctorate Degree in Nutritional Medicine with emphasis in Biochemistry. He trail blazed the beginning of crucial in-vitro studies proving the efficacy of systemic formulas on harmful organic pathogens. Dr. Aguilar has lectured and trained globally on multiple groundbreaking scientific research and discoveries involving genetics, glycobiology, homeopathy, herbology, nutrition, and biological medicine. He also serves on the advisory boards for several anti-aging and wellness clinics in North America. Dr. Aguilar has appeared on numerous television and radio venues. He hosted his own television program The Power of Wellness, which made him a popular and sought after medical-advisor celebrity. He is known for his genuine, approachable and engaging personality, humanitarian focused vision, and his uncompromising dedication to reaching new heights in the quest for world wellness through scientific advancements and education of medical and skin health professionals and the global community.
